

SHOUT ABOUT YOUR VOLUNTEERING

*H*i! My name is Amy and I give my time to the Sustainable Merton team based at Morden Hall Park.

I am an Administrative Support Volunteer.

Since completing my Biology degree in 2010 and then working in childcare for 2 years, I decided it was time to focus on building my career and pursuing my interest in the environmental sector.

The work I am now involved with at Sustainable Merton is just what I was looking for!

I really enjoy being part of a supportive team and working with them to raise awareness of issues such as renewable energy and energy saving, local food growing, water conservation and climate change.

As well as providing administrative support in the office, I also have the opportunity to engage with Merton residents via our social media sites and through helping out with gardening lessons in schools and at our community garden allotment in Phipps Bridge.

The work of Sustainable Merton promotes community engagement and sustainable living within the borough. The Tamworth Farm allotment project provides great learning opportunities for young people and has transformed a local site into a food growing hub for the whole community!
